

Form of Notice to a Coroner of intention to remove a body out of England

The body of a deceased person must not be removed out of England or Wales until

- notice has been given to the coroner within whose jurisdiction the body is lying
- four clear days have elapsed after the giving of the notice

The notice to the coroner must be given by completing the reverse of this form.

If the coroner is satisfied that there is no necessity to make further enquiries concerning the death, the body may be removed at any time after receipt of the coroner's findings.

In any case of urgency, it may be possible to remove the body earlier if the applicant contacts the coroner in person and the coroner is satisfied with the information given that no further enquiries are necessary.

Any person contravening these requirements is liable to prosecution.
